JANUARY 19, 1889.

For to-morrow's DISPATCH can be left at main office till midnight or at branch office till 9 P.M.

MARTYRED GORDON.

FORTY-THIRD YEAR.

The Authentic Story of His Death Dramatically Related By an Eye-Witness.

THE VICTIM OF TREACHERY.

He Died Like a Hero With His Face Toward the Foe.

FOULLY MURDERED BY GEN. NASSAS

The Story of Demetrio Georgio-The Fall of Khartonin-Trenchery Within the Gates -Pasha Farig's Message to the Mahdi-A City of Lamentations-The Attack on the Government House-Gordon's Defiance-A Knightly Surrender-A Treacherous Blow-The Last Tragic Scene.

The authentic account of the death of General Gordon, England's hero, is now given to the world for the first time. The story is told by Demetrio Georgio, a Greek, who was an eye-witness of the tragedy. Gordon was the victim of the foulest treachery, both on the part of his allies and of his enemies. Khartoum was delivered over to the Mahdi by Pasha Farig. Gordon defied the enemy until the last, and looked death calmly in the face. After surrendering according to the usages of war he was treacherously

THY CABLE TO THE DISPATCH.]

LONDON, January 18 .- (Copyright.)-The mail from Suakim to-night brings dispatches from General Grenfell, among which is the latest, and this time the ablonely tomb in the center of the Soudan is now venerated even by Mahdists as that of

The account, which has been collated with various documents and reports and officially declared to be true, is furnished by Demetrio Georgio, a Greek, who recently arrived at Saukim from Khartoum. Georgio was born at Berber and was present at the capture and sack of Khartoum. Here is his story as told to General Gren-

Khartoum Left Unguarded.

part of the city was open. Gordon didn't construct fresh trenches and ramparts, beder. Furig Pasha that night, Farig and some 15 cars were demolished. moved his troops, especially the blacks, from the gaps, saying the soldiers were wanted on the other side. Gordon had | ing the register at Kent. perfect confidence in Farig. The attack took place at two points. At the largest gap there was no resistance. If the British army, or even a few of them, had arrived even one hour before the attack, the place would not have been taken and Gordon's troups would have fought to the last.

Farig Pashn's Treachery. "Farig had sent word to the Mandi.

'Unless you attack to-night all is lost.' "That night all was blood and flames, and the city had passed over from the command of Gorden to the Mahdi. It was a dire and dreadful night. I shall remember given them. His desire was answered.

All the lights went out, the pulpit was it to my dying day. The air echoed with horrible shricks, yells, lamentations and wailing, and smelt of blood.

"I had three friends, Greeks. I hastened to rescue them. I had two Mahdist uni- stoves and pulpit in their usual places, and forms given me by an Arab friend. One I no signs of any disturbance. gave to a friend, putting on the other myself. It was nearing daybreak when some Arabs rushed in, telling me I ought to go Mrs. Kress Threatened Snielde Merely to the Government house at once.

"I said, 'Why?' "They replied that all the great officers of Pasha. The scraglio they called it. When at 2 o'clock this morning, where he found they saw my third friend had no Mahdi gar- Mr. and Mrs. August Kress struggling ment on they slew him.

The Scene of the Tragedy. "We were then taken into the court vard. I saw Gordon Pasha smoking a cigarette on the yard where the sycamore tree is. Georgio Demetrio, the principal medical officer of the Soudan previnces, and Nicola Lemindita, the to frighten her husband, who had neglected Greek Consul, were with him. Five hundred dervishes, who had been sent by the Mahdi with special orders to take Gordon alive, stood at the foot of the staircase. I went up the stairs, being sent by the men below, who were vociferating 'Gordon Pasha.

"Gordon coolly left the balcony. " 'Fly,' said the other two, 'while there is yet time. Go in at the little door take the boat. " 'Shall I fly and leave my post?' Gordon replied, indignantly, 'that, indeed, would be a disgrace. I shall not fly.' Dauntless in the Face of Death

"He then went into his inner room and he came out and grandly drew himself up to his full height. On his visage was a look

"Whom seek ve?' he asked, gazing at the sea of angry faces of the dervishes. " 'Gordon Pashs,' they cried.

"'You want him, do you. I am he, come up hither,' Gordon replied. "On being again urged by Demetrio and the Greek Consul to fiv. Gordon replied. for shame, would you have me abandon my post ignominiously?" "He could easily have escaped at the rear. Then as Gordon stood boldly facing saying, 'I am he,' and handed them his sword in the military fashion, intimating that he knew they had taken the place, and that consequently he surrendered according to the usages of war. Thus Died the Martyred Gordon.

"Nassas, one of the Generals, snatched hold of his sword at the same time in a brutal and most cowardly manner, striking Gordon an unexpected blow. The Pasha would have fought desperately had he thought he would not have been treated in an honorable manner. He fell, rolling down the stairs. As ne rolled another General speared him on the left side, inflicting a grievous wound.

Thus died Gordon. I was there, a spectator of the ghastly deed, and got out of the way when he rolled to the bottom of the stairs. Some say Gordon was cut up into little pieces, but others relate that they embalmed his body and took it to the Mahdi. There were bodies cut up, but I am inclined to believe that these were the bodies of the Consul and the doctor."

SEVEN MORE BALLOTS.

A Fruitless Night Session of the West Virginia Senate-A Democratic Caucus to be Called-The End Still in the Future.

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. CHARLESTON, W. VA., January 18 .- In the Senate to-day the petition of A. P. Morris, contesting the seat of J. W. Yeater, ocratic Senator from the Second dis was filed. Five more ballots for President were taken, and at one time it seemed that Thomas E. Davis, the Republican member from Taylor county, had been elected. He received the votes of Senators McCallister and Price from the Democratic side, but before the vote was announced Senator McCallister changed his vote to Senator Scott. This prevented his election. Ninety ballots had been taken when a recess was taken until 7:30 this evening. The general impression among members of both parties was that an organization would be effected, but in this they were again mis-taken. Seven more ballots were taken without any election, and about 8:30 an adjournment was had until 11 o'clock to-mor-

A Democratic caucus to decide upon a solutely authentic account of the last hours candidate for United States Senator will be of Gordon, the hero of Khartoum, whose called in the near future, but the exact date has not been decided upon. From present appearances a repetition of the deadlock of two years ago, which resulted in the defeat Senator Camden, seems possible, if not

ANOTHER FATAL WRECK.

More Accident on the Nypano

the Scene of the Late Disaster. KENT, O., January 18. - New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio freight train 24 and second section of train 87, went heads together one mile west of here at 6:05 this evening, and Edward Washner, of train 87, was killed. Engineer E. E. Roberts, of "I was at Khartoum the night it was train 24, and both firemen escaped with a taken. The Nile had gone back so that few bruises. Three tramps, who were stealing a ride in a box car of 87, were more or

The body of Washner was not found cause he thought there were sufficient troops until 9:45, when it was discovered under the there, 3,000, I think. The gaps and all ruins of a box car, 25 feet from his engine. roundabout were held by a large force un- 87 about 12 miles an hour. Both engines accident occurred within four miles of the scene of the terrible disaster of the 14th, and was caused by the crew of train 87 overlook.

THE REVIVAL WILL BOOM.

Strange Things That Happened in a Little Indiana Church.

ISPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.1 JEFFERSONVILLE, IND., January 18 .-For two weeks the people of Owen township have labored hard to get up a out success. They were ready to give up when at the last meeting a pious-looking stranger walked into the church, was asked to pray and readily responded. His supplication was fervent and extraordinary. He asked that a sign be given them. His desire was answered. violently flung into a corner, and at the same moment the stoves were upset, leaving the church in utter darkness. The congregation fled panic-stricken. In the morning the more courageous returned. They found

SHE DIDN'T WANT TO DIE.

Frighten Her Husband.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.] NEW YORK, January 18 .- A woman's screams in First avenue, at Twenty-eighth the Mahdi have gone there to kill Gordon street, called Policeman McCabe to the spot on the sidewalk. He took them to the station. Mr. Kress is the son of the well-known brewer, and he the well-known brewer, and and his wife live at Seventh avenue and Thirty-second street. Mr. Kress said that siderable excitement in the little mining his wife had left her home, half dressed, in the balcony facing the river. We had en-tered at the back of the palace, entering at the river. He had followed her across town

> Mrs. Kress was locked up. She said that her. She had no idea, she said, of suicide The Justice discharged Mrs. Kress.

WISCONSIN WHITE CAPS.

They are Preparing to Protect Girls and Summarily Paulsh Murders.

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. ASHLAND, WIS., January 18.-Billy Andrews had been acquitted of cutting his wife's head off. Yesterday he received a White Cap notice to leave to-day. To-day he was on the streets with two six-shooters in his overcoat pockets. He says he is not

One of the city preachers, speaking about the reign of lawlessness in the pineries, and the attempt to break up the iniamous stockaded dens, declared to-day that when it came to pass that girls were lured from their homes to these donned his full uniform and sword. Then vile prisons in the woods, he was a White Can and he didn't care who knew it. The preacher is known to be a member of the secret organization which has just been formed to grapple with the evil.

New Mexico's Earnest Plen.

SANTA FE, January 18 .- A lengthy me morial to the President and Congress of the United States passed the New Mexico Legislative Assembly to-day by a unanimous vote, praying for the admission of this Territory to the Union of States. A committee will be appointed to convey the memorial to Alvin Joslyn Fined for Naughtiness.

NEW YORK, January 18,-"Alvin Josthe dervishes several superior Mahdist Generals came up. The dervishes allowed them to pass. They ascended the stairs and them to pass. They ascended the stairs and $150 for the offense in the Court of Special Cassions to-day.

A FALSE DOCTRINE.

Archbishop Corrigan Pronounces Against the Anti-Poverty Society-Right of Property Sanctioned by the Law of Nature. ISPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, January 18 .- A circular was sent to-day to all the priests of the archdiocese of New York, of which the following are REVEREND DEAR STR-Although the socalled Anti-Poverty Society has been nearly two years in existence, I have refrained hither-to from taking notice of it, hoping that time selves would gradually disperse.

The successor of St. Peter, addressing and teaching the universal church, has affirmed that "the right of property is sanctioned by the law of nature." The founder of the Anti-Poverty Society proclaims the opposite. The Holy Father has branded the doctrines of this unhappy leader as "false and pernicious." He has stated that he "will flever retract them." The Holy Father, through his organ, the su-preme tribunal of the holy office, of which he nself is the President, has declared attendance at these reunions an "open and publi and experience would lead its votaries to wise sin." The rejoiner of the ex-communicate will not repeat. In order, therefore, to safeguard the interests of souls for whom I must render an account on the day of judgment, I hereby make and declare attendance at meetings of the Anti-Poverty Society a reserved case. I need not expect you, reverend dear sir, should occasion bringing back to the fold those who may have strayed from the path of duty. 1 am, very faithfully, your devoted servant in MICHAEL AUGUSTINE, Archbishop of New York. P. 8.—Please read this circular at all the asses on Sunday.

DISRUPTION OF A CHURCH. ion Service Stolen and the Church Doors Nailed Up. SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.1 BOSTON, January 18.-There is serious liscussion in the First Independent Baptist Church, colored, of this city, the facts of which are being aired in court in a suit brought by the old Board of Deacons, who claim to have been unlawfully removed. The trouble began last September, but the brethren have kept the matter within the sacred precincts of the church. It seems that at the annual meeting, Deacons Moore, Mercer, Wise, Saunder and Kemp were unceremoniously dropped and Deacons Taylor, Kendail, Henry Hill Russell and Wheeler were elected in their places. There had been some back talk for several weeks, and this culminated in a seizure of the communion service and church by the deposed deacons, according to the pastor's testimony The complainants in this suit are charged with hiding the communion service, after which they nailed up the church so that it was impossible to open it for the annual meeting. The next day an entrance was forced and the victorious party pro-ceeded to count out the deacons who had ceeded to count out the deacons who had tried the freezing-out process. The case is still on trial, and some interesting testimony is expected.

A QUEER GHOST IN CHICAGO.

t Wears the Usual Garments, but Walks on All Fours.

ISPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.1 CHICAGO, January 18 .- People who live on State street, between Forty-fifth and Forty-ninth streets, declare that a ghost patrols that district at midnight every night. The specter is de-scribed as being dressed in white, flowing garments, and as walking on all The conductors and drivers of the street cars on Forty-first street are greatly alarmed. Two of them refused to take their cars out last night.

Hyde Park policemen saw the apparition about midnight last night, and pursued it, firing their revolvers as they ran. When the spook reached the Grand Boulevard it suddenly disappeared. The officers reported their adventure to Captain Hunt. To-night several officers were detailed to lay in ambush for the ghost.

THE TESTIMONY ALL IN.

revival at Shiloh Church, but with. A Verdict in the Tallmadge Wreck Inquest to be Rendered Soon. ISPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATOR I AKRON, January 18 .- Coroner Sargent concluded his inquest to-day into the cause of the New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio wreck of Monday morning at Tallmadge. and will render his decision in a day or two Engineer Robinson, of the freight train, the parting of which was the first in the train of circumstances that caused the wreck, went upon the stand. He testified that when his fireman (Bradley) left the engine to flag the fast express he told Bradley to be sure and hold the train at Tallmadge. There was a definite understanding to that effect. Operator Harbison said he had mistaken whistles on the Pittsburg and Western road for Nypano whistles. The tendency of to day's testimony is to put the responsibility pretty solidly on Fireman Bradley.

ARRESTED BY VIGILANTS.

A Church Dencon Discovered in the Violation of the Probibition Law. FORT DODGE, IOWA, January 18 .- The arrest of Thomas Cooper, of Lehigh, a deacon in the Christian Church, by a set of vigilants last evening, was the cause of convillage. Several kegsof the prohibited were captured and Cooper was turned over to the new authorities, to whom he pleaded guilty of violating the law and was placed in the county jail at this place. Church services were being conducted at Christian Church at the time of the arrest, and the proceedings were reported by the vigilants to the meeting, whereupon Cooper was promptly suspended from church mem-

THE LAST SAD RITES

Paid to the Memory of Charles R. Frank, of ESPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. PHILLIPSBURG, January 18 .- The funeral ervices of Charles R. Frank, who died suddenly on Tuesday, took place this afternoon at the German Lutheran Church, and were largely attended. The services were conducted by Rev. F. C. E. Lemcke, of Rochester, assisted by Rev. W. A. Passavant, of Pittsburg.

The Jr. O. U. A. M., of which the deceased was a member, turned out in a body, and a number of his fellow newspaper workers were present.

STILL AFTER MORIER

The Originator of the Scandal Says Bazaine Was Childish and Not Reliable. BERLIN, January 18 .- The Cologne Gasette publishes an anonymous letter, stating in effect that Count Solms-Sonnewalde, the German Minister at Madrid, confirmed Major Von Deine's report on the Morier affair. The letter also hints that Count Solms said that General Bazaine, during the last days of his life, often wandered in mind, and would only have written a denial at someone's dictation.

The Mahdi to Invade Egypt.

HIS LOVE OR LIFE

PITTSBURG, SATURDAY,

Demanded of Kyrle Bellew by Eccentric Miss Harriet Coffin.

SHE GOES GUNNING FOR HIM AGAIN

But He Gives Her the Slip and Has Re Placed Under Lock and Key.

ANGERED BY HIS MIMIC LOVE SCENES She Insists Upon His Rehearsing With Her, Seriously Objects.

Miss Harriet E. Coffin seems determined to have handsome Kyrle Bellew's life if she can't have his love. She became so furious watching him making mimic love to Mrs. James Brown Potter that last evening she made another attack on him. On being arrested, taken to the station and searched, a pistol, lots of money, some letters and a compromising diary were found. She was locked up for the night.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.] NEW YORK, January 18 .- Harriet E. Coffin, the eccentric young Cincinnati woman who has followed Actor Kvrle Bellew all over the country for a year past under the crazy delusion that he is madly in love with her, met him face to face to-night in front of the stage door of Palmer's Theater. She had a loaded pistol, and he did not stop to talk with her, but hurried into the theater. Miss Coffin has haunted the neighborhood of the theater ever since Mrs. Potter put on 'Antony and Cleopatra." The actor was warned that she was after him, but he was used to it. On Thursday night Miss Coffin sat in the orchestra and watched the simulated love scenes between Mrs. Potter and the actor with growing excitement, and she hurried around to the stage door at 31 West Thirtieth street, after the play, and ried to see Bellew and expostulate. He chanced to go out the other way.

KYLE PUT TO FLIGHT. About 6:30 o'clack to-night Miss Coffin egan to pace up and down in front of the stage entrance, determined to intercept the actor as he went into the theater. She wore a fur ulster and a becoming bonnet over her jet black banged hair, and carried a leather and satchel. Bellew came sauntering along in a light overcoat at 7 o'clock, and Miss Coffin stopped him just as he was about to go up the high brown stone stoop. He didn't recognize her, and she petulantly told her name and began an unintelligible tirade against him. Then she moved her hand toward her pocket, and he vanished into the theater.

Two minutes after he was in the office asking Howard Perry where he could get a constable. "That — woman Coffin is after me again," he said, "and she wants to shoot me."

Perry shut the boxoffice door and ran around to Miss Coffin, who was still at the stage entrance. She made a motion toward her pocket again, but Perry shook his fist at her and frightened her. She denounced Bellew, and then turned away contemptuously and walked up toward Fifth avenue HIDING FOR HER VICTIM. Five minutes later Gasman Joe Driscoll ame into the theater and said that she was hiding in the area, two doors east of the stage door. Perry sent a messenger to Cap tain Reilly, and Policeman Reed and Dolan came around and got her. She fought against arrest and tried to get at her pocket again, but the policeman held her arms. At the station house they took from her pocket a new silver-plated, pearl-handled 32-caliber revolver. Only one of its five chambers was loaded. The prisoner became furious when the weapon was taken from her, and kicked Policeman Reed's shin. She declared her arrest an outrage, and insisted that it was part of a plot of Kyrle Bellew to kill her. Sergeant Sheldon found a big roll of bills in her pocket, which he returned to her. He took her hand satchel away and locked her up in a cell. An hour later she tried to run her long steel hat pin into the arm of an attendant, and the pin was taken away. WILD IN HER RAGE. She raved in the cell about Mrs. Potter and Bellew. Later still she prayed Sergeant Sheldon to release her, and offered him first $50 and then increased the offer to $300 and $500. Captain Reilly made an inventory of the iscellany in the satchel. There was a partly-emptied box of arsenic wafers, an empty bottle that had contained some narcotic, a pocketbook containing crumpled new bank notes, and a pawn ticket showing that the prisoner had pledged a ring under the assumed name of Mrs. Stafford at Stern's pawn shop, at 56 West Thirty-first street, for $12 on January 15; a lot of correspondence from her attorneys, Charles B. Wilby and Gustavus H. Wald, of 218 Main street, Cincinnati; 16 paid checks on the Second National Bank at Fifth avenue and Twenty-third street, and a Russian leather

The letters apparently indicated that Miss Coffin owns considerable property in Cincinnati. The checks aggregated $1,572 99.
The diary was filled with references to Bellew's mysterious power over Miss Coffin.
She calls him "Her death," and under date of July 11, 1888, wrote this entry. A MILD BIRTHDAY GREETING. My birthday-last feeling gone; the love I live for has left me. I feel the strength-my God! I will fall senseless. Have taken a few arsenic wafers, but only two a day. Curse ye! arsenic waters, but only two a day. Curse ye. I wish a post mortem examination.

She also had a newspaper clipping reporting that the Chicago police had been warned that she had followed Bellew there with a pistol to kill him.

The prisoner told Sergeant Sheldon that she was 21 years old, and lived at 256 West Fifty-sixth street. It was discovered that Miss Coffin had been living recently at the Murray Hill, Rossmore, Barrett, Oriental and the Grand Hotel. She was turned out of the latter three weeks ago, and the employes had to lock the door afterward to keep her from forcing her way back to the office. Dr. Hill treated her at the Murray Hill for insomnia on New Year's Day with out knowing who she was.

Miss Coffin's mother lived at 1133 Madison avenue until two months ago, and Miss Coffin has been around there with her pistol hunting for Bellew. Howard Perry will appear against her in Jefferson Market Court to-morrow. She was committed to an asylum here at the time of her last escapade, but fled to Jersey City and has been at large ever INSISTS HE IS CHRIST. Sacrilegious Scamp Severely Punisher For Personating His Savior.

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCHI BELVIDERE, N. J., January 18 .- The jury in the case of Mason Heuntsman, accused of personating Jesus Christ, receiving divine honor from his followers, and passing judgment on his enemies, having rendered Judge DeWitt passed sentence this morning. He imposed the full penalty, six months in the county jail, $100 fine and the costs of prosecution The prisoner made a ten-minute speech, declaring that his life was in keeping with Christ's and the Apostles', and that he was ready to go to the stake for his religious be-

SOME FUN AHEAD.

Indications of a Brush at Harti-How Legitime Raises Lonns-Another Yankee War Ship Getting

Ready to Sail. ISPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.1

NEW YORK, January 18.—The Atlas Line steamship Andes, Captain Evans, which was at Port-au-Prince on Decembe 29 and at Kingston on January 10, came in 29 and at Kingston on January 10, came in to-day. Captain Evans says that Legitime raised a loan of $2,000 at par from Port-au-Prince merchants, and next day locked up many of those who had declined to subscribe. Captain Evans says that the forces of Legitime and Hippolyte are about equal, and that neither side wants to fight. Legitime, he says, is now attacking St. Marc by land and sea. The Toussaint abelled the Themsentless Part there and shelled the Thermopylean Pass there and drove off its defenders, but Legitime's troops did not dare enter.

The Galena was still at Kingston on the 10th, with all well aboard. The big propeller of the modern cruiser Atlanta, Captain Howell, stirred up the black mud in the navy yard creek this afternoon and to-night. She is under orders to sail for Hayti, and Chief Engineer Kelly was breaking in his new engines and new men. The ship's engines were kept going at slow speed for 12 hours to give each watch a chance to become familiar with their duties. Lieutenant Conden had the foresail, topsails, topgallant sails and fore and aft sails bent, boats hoisted aboard and swung in, and everything put in shape for sea. Captain J. A. breaking in his new engines and new men. thing put in shape for sea. Captain J. A Howell hopes to bid New York goodby to-morrow afternoon, but owing to some trouble away until Sunday morning.

In the Erie basin to-day all was bustle at the dock where lay the steamship Madrid, which is supposed is fitting out for a gunboat for Hippolyte. Scores of men were engaged in fastening tripple sheets of steel seven-sixteenths of an inch thick on the vessel's sides, and these were backed with strong timbers of live oak. At the foundry nearby the steel plates for the work was being turned out as fast as possible.

FOR THE BENEFIT OF LABOR, An Important Bill Introduced in the Illine

Legislature. SPRINGFIELD, ILL., January 18 .- A bill introduced in the House to-day entitled "Employment inspection bill," makes elaborate provision for the comfort and safety of employes in all manner of establishments throughout the State, where labor is employed. An inspector is provided for, whose duty it shall be to see that the law is rigidly enforced and violators prosecuted. Among other provisions is that any establishment wherein girls or women are employed there shall be provided conveniently located seats sufficient for comfort, and during such time as they are not necessarily required by their duties to be upon their feet they shall be allowed to occupy seats provided.

It shall be lawful hereafter for any em ploye to sue for and recover any sum of money that may have been retained or de-ducted from his or her wages by employer as fine of forfeiture, any agreement, custom, rule or practice to contrary not withstanding. This measure was prepared by a Knights of

CHEERED BY THE CROWD. Dramatic Scenes at the Acquittal of a Mi

Charged With Murder. trial of Frederick Baldwin, who was accused of the murder of Edward L. Miller whose body was found at Westfield on July 15, ended this afternoon in a verdict of acquittal. The jury, without leaving their seats, immediately at the finish of the Judge's charge, which was strongly favorable to the prisoner, gave their verdict. A dramatic scene took place. Baldwin fell upon his knees in prayer and thanksgiving, while the crowd cheered the verdict. He was escorted through the streets by hundreds of people. Baldwin, passing John Keron, the State detective, said to him: "I forgive you for the cruel wrong you did me and my family." The case against Baldwin was based on the fact that a satchel left with Baldwin by Miller was destroyed by Baldwin after the dis-covery of the body.

A FAMOUS HORSE DEAD.

imported Billet, One of the Best Moder

Sires, Dies at Runnymede. PERCIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH PARIS, Ky., January 18.-Imported Billet, one of the most famous sires of race horses in America, died to-day at the Runnymede stud. Billet was a brown horse, foaled in 1865, and was owned by Messrs Clay Woodford, of the Runnymede stud. He was by Voltigeur (son of Voltaire and Martha Linn, by Mulatto), dam Calcutta, by Flatcatcher (son of Touchstone, winner f the St. Leger in 1834). Billet was the sire of Miss Woodford Sir Dixon, Raceland, The Lioness, Belvidere, Runnymede, and other cracks. He was second on the list of winning sires this season, with $120,000 to his credit. Since 883 his get have won $520,000.

A NEW REFINERY

starts in Washington County With Goo Prospects of Success. PEPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. WASHINGTON, PA., January 18 .- The Washington Refining Company starts its plant north of town with bright prospects. More than 1,000 barrels of refined oil have already passed through the four 480-barrel stills, and the result shows that Washington county crude will yield 75 per cent of Twenty tank cars for shipping oil in bulk have been secured at a cost of $15,000. The rate to New York will be 55 cents a barrel 5 cents more than from Pittsburg. The capacity will be about 6,000 barrels a week. The cooper shop will employ 40 men.

ALLEGED RAILROAD DEFAULTERS. Officials of the Pennsylvania Compan

Charged With Extensive Stealings. TRENTON, N. J., January 18 .- Serious defalcations by officials of the Pennsylvania Railroad have just been brought to light. It appears that J. P. Cox. Assistant Supervisor of the New York division of the road. and W. A. Howell, Supervisor, have for some time been collecting old ties and rails along the division, disposing them to private parties and appropriating the funds, amounting to over $5,000, to their own use. Both men have been arrested and placed under bail. The examination is still going on and further developments are expected.

JAY GOULD GOING SOUTH.

The Big Little Man Utterly Prostrated by

His Wife's Death. ISPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. NEW YORK, January 18 .- Mr. Jay Gould who is much worn out by his wife's illness and death, will go South in a few days. He will be accompanied by his younger children and his physician, Dr. J. P. Munn.

It was reported that he would start tomorrow for the White Sulphur Springs, but George J. Gould said he did not think his father would be able to get would be able to get away before the first of next week.

NOT IN GOOD SHAPE.

Republicans Not United in the Support of Their Tariff Bill.

QUAY AND CAMERON OPPOSE IT

The Former Declares Flatly He Won't Vote for It, and Tells Why.

MR. SPRINGER FLUSHED WITH VICTORY. An Outline of the Ford Committee Immigration Re striction Bill.

Senator Quay's vote with the Democrats. vesterday, on the sugar bounty amendment to the Republican tariff, emphasizes the announcement that he doesn't intend to vote for the bill in its entirety. It is also said that Senator Cameron will not vote with his colleagues. Colonel Quay gives his reasons for not acting with his party. The bill proposed by the Ford convict labor committee is outlined. Congressman Springer, in the first flush of victory, feels certain the Senate will pass his omnibus territorial bill.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, January 18 .- Senators Allison and Aldrich, who have done the bulk of the work on the Senate tariff bill are disgusted at the opposition cropping out on every side and are becoming discouraged at the outlook for the bill. The Pennsylvania Senators still continue to make threatening remarks about not voting for it, notwithstanding the great amount of protection which the bill extends to Pennsylvania. A new feature of opposition has turned up in the antagonism between the wool growers and the manufacturers They have been here for several days, attempting to arrange legislation that would be agreeable to both factions, but all efforts have failed, and their interests still come into direct conflict. No arrangement satisfactory to both can be made and the committees will be obliged to arbitrarily de the best they can. There is genuine fear, however, among the Republican Senators that the bill is in Janger of being slaughtered in the House by its

QUAY WON'T VOTE FOR IT. Messrs. Allison and Aldrich yesterday sent a man to see Quay, who said that he had said he would not vote for the Senate tariff bill, because he thought the internal revenue should be reduced before the tariff. He had opposed the hill from the first but Allison and Aldrich think he will vote for it. It will be remembered that Chairman

Quay did all he could in and out of caucus last summer to prevent Allison and Aldrich from bringing in a substitute for the Mills bill reducing the tariff duties. He held that the Republican platform committed the Republican party to the maintenance of the tariff as it is, at least until after all internal taxes shall have been abolished. He thought the Republican campaign ought to be fought against the Mills bill and not in

SOME OTHERS DISGRUNTLED. The Pennsylvania Sonators are not the only Republicans who are causing trouble. The Senators from Maine are badly disgruntled because their proposition to allow naterials for iron ships to come in free was helping the bill along by cheering words or hard work. The Sub-Finance Committee has become so disgusted and discouraged that they are about ready to throw up the sponge and let the bill take care of itself. Party discipline is very strong with Republicans, however, and having stuck to their work so faithfully for six months, the committee will probably continue the fight little longer. All debate will close on Tuesday next, when amendments will be acted upon at once. A final vote on the passage of the bill will be reached about the end of next week. The effort to keep all the jealous and warring cliques on the Republican side in line, so that there will be no deserters on the last roll, puts a great strain upon the Republican leaders, but they will now fight the battle to the bitter end. QUAY VOTES WITH THE DEMOCRATS. The debate to-day on the sugar schedulethe pressing question being on the amend-ment reported from the Finance Committee. allowing a bounty of 1 cent per pound on sugar produced from beets, sorghum and sugar cane grown in the United Stateswas exceedingly lively, and when it ended in a vote by which the amendment was adopted, the interest was added to, as it was discovered that party lines had been followed with two notable exceptions-Mr. Quay, of Pennsylvania, had voted with the erats, and Senator Payne, of Ohio, with the Republicans. During the discussion the race troubles of the South were touched upon, but it was agreed to drop them till the resolution for the investigation of the election in Louisiana last April was taken up. Several times the repartee became quite personal, Mr. Butler once telling Mr. Hawley that he wasn't as smart as he thought he was. The vote was taken amid perfect silence. PUTTING UP THE BARS. Outline or the Proposed Immigration Bill

of the Ford Committee. WASHINGTON, January 18 .- The select committee on importation of contract labor. convicts and paupers, has finished its investigation and is now ready to report to the House. The report will be argued by all the members of the committee, though Mr. Guenther and General Spinola do not approve of all the features of the bill accompanying the report. The following is an abstract of the bill: Section 1 provides that no person being an idiot or insane, or a pauper liable to become a amout or insane, or a paper hable to become a public charge, or convicted of felony or any infamous crime; no Polygamist, Anarchist or Nihilist, or any person affilieted with a loathsome or contagious disease shall be admitted to the United States. All persons who entered into a contract of any kind or form, express o implied, to perform labor or service for an person, firm or corporation, or who came over or understanding to paytheir passage, or promise or understanding to perform labor, and all persons excluded by the contract labor law of 1885 are prohibited from landing. Only pro-fessors in universities or ministers of the gospel are excepted.

Section 2 provides that all aliens who come to the United States in violation of the provisions of this act, and all aliens assisting others to immigrate unlawfully shall be guilty of a misdemeanor punishable be a fine up to $1,000 or mprisonment at hard labor up to three years. All such immigrants may be returned during the first two years of their sojourn in the the first two years of their sojourn in the United States at the cost of the company which brought them over, and if that is impossible, by the United States.

Section 3 provides that no vessel engaged in transporting emigrants shall carry more than one passenger to every registered ton (that is about half the number carried now).

Section 4 imposes a head tax of 55 on every allen passenger, except diplomats and diplomatic agents, this tax to be a lien on the vessel or rolling stock of the transportation company and to be paid into the United States Treasury as an immigration fund, out of which all exas an immigration fund, out of which all ex-penses of controlling and inspecting the immi-grants and caring for the sick, etc., shall be paid.

paid.

Section 5 provides that all persons intending to emigrate to the United States shall notify the American Consul of their desire three months before their departure. The Consul shall ascertain whether the person intending papers for to-morrow's issue of The Dispatch. OUIDA tells why sensible women should steer clear of club life in THE DIS-PATCH to be issued to-morrow.

to emigrate is excluded or not by the laws of the United States, and if not objectionable shall issue a certificate of emigration. But this certificate is not conclusive evidence, and no relief for the master of a ship or any trans-portation company if the owner of the paper is rejected by the United States. The remaining sections provide for the inspection of emigrants under the direction of the Secretary of the Treasury, who shall appoint a sufficient number of inspectors for all ports, railroad centers on the frontier, etc., these Inspectors to receive $4,000 per He Thinks the Scholad Process of the Committee of the Com

WASHINGTON, January 18 .- Mr. Springer retired to his committee room after the House adjourned this afternoon, flushed with victory and the effort to make himself heard. Mr. Springer said: We have provided for admission for five new States, and it is the first time in the history of the country that more than two territories have been bunched. We have had a hard fight, but we have won. The bill has undergone no material changes in the House. The Republicans have made a factious tight at every point and have been beaten. The only material amendment to the bill is the allowance of two representatives to South Dakota, and that is assented to. As to the political effects of the admission of the new States, nothing can be said definitely. The immediate gain will be to the Republicans. They will get more of the new Senators and Representatives that we shall, and they will get more electoral votes from the five new States in 1892 than we shall, but these States would have to come in before that time anyway. The position of the Democratic party in the new States will be proved by the passage of this bill through a Democratic House. Party ites are looser in the Territory than in the States. The closeness of Washington Territory and the large changes in Montana show that neither party in these Territories is secured in its control, and the Democratic party has a fair chance of getting its share of the new States in the immediate future. I believe this bill will pass the Senate substantially as we have passed it.

The delegations from both South and We have provided for admission for five new states, and it is the first time in the history of

we have passed it. The delegations from both South and North Dakota and other prominent Democrats of South Dakota, who have been here urging the passage of the Senate bill for the admission of South Dakota and an enabling act for North Dakota, feel very much dissatisfied with the provisions of the Springer bill. They are all united in saying that it will merely serve to delay the admis South Dakota and render useless all that has been done since the organization of the movement for admission, five years ago. They are asking the Senate to reject it and are willing to take their chances with the new Congress, hoping and expecting that an extra session will be called by the President-elect when he takes office. The dele-fair in a political sense, and also unsafe for the material interests of the territory. A DYING LAWYER.

Samuel B. Wilson Nearing the End of Earth-Sketch of His Brilliant Career-He Wift Be Missed by Many. ISPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.

BEAVER, January 18 .- The death dew is fast settling on the brow of one of the Beaver Valley's brightest lights, in the person of Samuel Beatty Wilson, an old member of the Beaver bar. He has been certainly and surely far distant. "Sam B.," as he was ta-He was a son of House. S. B. Wilson.

and an academic tered Jefferson College, nonsburg, where he graduated June, 1848, standing without a peer among his classmates. His mastery of the construction of the English, Latin and Greek languages was never questioned by his associates. With grit and grip he daily increased his classic knowledge by reading and conversation.

After graduating he was chosen principal of the Darlington Academy, which position he filled with honor for one year, after which e entered the law office as a student under Hon. Jeremiah S. Black, then Judge at In November, 1850, he was admitted to the bar, and at once moved to Beaver, where he was admitted to practice in the several courts of the county. In 1854 he married Miss Elizabeth Robinson, daughter of then Sheriff George Robinson, of Beaver, who not only proved an affectionate wife and mother of four children, but a very efficient aid to him in his legal pursuits, and who, with two daughters and one son, is still living, the son following the vocation of his For almost 40 years Mr. Wilson has engaged in most of the important legal business that has been transacted in the county, and always with clean hands. He was not a politician, but had decided political opinons, which, on proper occasions, he expressed fearlessly. He aimed to become a thorough scholar and an honest, successful lawver, and was a good tutor, under whose tions many of the legal profession were led to victory and honor. He filled many important positions to which his fellow citizens

He took sick during the celebrated Hibbard-Fry case in the November term of court, in which case he was employed, and the trouble is nervous prostration. His presence in the courtroom, on the street, in the assemblies for the interests of the people, and in the Masonic order of which he was a member, will be greatly missed. His family have the sympathy of his numerous

RAILROAD OFFICES BURNED. Narrow Escapes From a Lively and Destructive Fire at St. Paul. St. PAUL, January 18 .- Late this afternoon this city was visited by a disastrous fire, and as a result the Omaha Railroad general offices have been temporarily removed to another part of the city. The flames started in the basement of the building occupied by the railroad offices, shot up the elevator, and soon great volumes of smoke were pouring from the fourth floor of the building, and the flames soon ate through the roof. Those on the lower floors easily escaped, but the clerks on the third floor had some narrow escapes and many lost all their wraps.

other, named Ferdman, broke a leg. Three others were were injured, one of them, a telegrapher named Tracy, breaking a leg. The flames were confined to the third and fourth floors, and it is thought the loss will not exceed $40,000, which is covered by in-Leo Pleased With American Catholics. ROME, January 18,-The Moniteur denies hat the Pope has admonished the American

Two messenger boys jumped from the second story window. One of them, Frank Peterson, cut his head badly, while the culogized the religious zeal and activity displayed by Catholies in America.

Bishops in account of the progress of Socialism among American Catholies. On the contrary, the paper says His Holiness has

THREE CENTS THE RUM CONUNDRUM

Still Puzzling the Minds of the Politicians and Legal Lights.

MEMBER SPEAKS PLAINLY.

spondent Causes a Flutter.

That Smacks of Monopoly and is Probably Decidedly

Unconstitutional

THE DISPATCH this morning furnisheresh food for thought for Prohibitionists and liquor men. The point raised as to the necessity of a special session of the Legislature appears to be conceded by those conversant with the subject. The Deputy Atorney General acknowledges it to be a delicate question, and will look up authori ties. In the meantime the amendment is to be pushed through the Legislature, and the special election bill. [PROM A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.] HARRISBURG, January 18 .- The question now pushed forward concerning the prohibitory constitutional amendment is an interesting one. If the amendment is adopted by the people will it operate as a repeal of the Brooks high license law and the Governor announces that he will sign other liquor laws? A Democratic member, who does not wish to be quoted, thinks it will, and holds that these laws will be repealed by the amendment to the organic laws, and as there is no penalty provided for in the enforcement of the latter, there will be a state of affairs in the liquor trade not hitherto contemplated. The gentleman argues that the Republican leaders have no idea that the amendment will pass or they would have already taken steps to provide against this. In the language of Governor Beaver they are waiting to come to the bridge before they cross it.

A FINE LEGAL QUESTION. Attorney General Kirkpatrick is not in gation regards the provision of the bill unthe city and in his absence the Deputy Attorney General was asked for information as to whether the Constitutional amendment, if adopted, would wipe out the liquor laws of the State. As to that he preferred not to hazard an opinion without taking time to look into the subject. As to the result, if the amendment should act as a repeal of the liquor laws, he considered it too delicate a question for immediate answer. It might possibly be held, he thought, that the amendment would be selfexecuting, and violation of it would be a misdemeanor in common law and punishable as such. He considered that the question opened up many very fine points which could not be answered on the instant with sinking, and the any degree of authority.

end is now not PROHIBITION MADE THE SPECIAL ORDER. In the House to-day, Mr. Dravo offered a resolution that the prohibition amendment wn, to the Constitution be made the special was born Febru- order for third reading and final passage on ary 2, 1820, near Tuesday, January 22, at noon, until the New Castle, Pa. same shall be finally disposed of by the

a farmer, Patrick Mr. Hasset, of Philadelphia, objected, Wilson, of Scotch | but the motion was carried by a large maancestry. After jority. The Speaker quickly decided so, passing through but Mr. Hasset wanted the yeas and navs. the common school The Speaker informed him the question had course, he en- been decided and the yeas and nays were at Cap- not in order, but Mr. Hasset continued to graduated | insist that he must have the yeas and nays, a even after other business had been taken up. Finding himself unnoticed, he dropped into his seat with the complacent smile of a man who had done his full duty to his constituents and his feelings. Governor Beaver says he never says what action he will take on a bill until he sees it, but if the special election bill is all right and in proper form, it is quite likely he will

HIS FIRST ORDER. Governor Benver Accepts the Position of Chief Marsha! of the Inaugural Parade.

FROM A STAFF CORRESPONDENT. HARRISBURG, January 18. - General Beaver, Chief Marshal of the inaugural parade at Washington on March 4, has issued the following as his first order:

Having accepted the invitation of the committee in charge of the inaugural ceremonies attending the inauguration of General Benjamin Harrison as President of the United States, to act as Chief Marshal of the inaugural procession, the following appointment is an-nounced: Chief of Staff, Brigadier General Daniel H. Hastings, Adjutant General, Penn-sylvania, Allorganizations desiring to partici-pate in the parade will notify these headquarters on or before February 20, in order that they may receive proper assignment in the pro-cession. No civic organization will be permit-ted in line numbering less than 50 men. No organizations wearing improper costume or equipment will be assigned a place in the parade. Further announcements will be hed in future orders. STATE AUTOCRATS.

The Supreme Court a Law Unto Itself and the Commonwealth.

FROM A STAFF CORRESPONDENT, 1 HARRISBURG, January 18 .- The Telegraph this evening contains this paragraph, rendered particularly remarkable by Mr. McAlarnev's closeness to the Republican powers that be: There was reported from committee in the House this morning a bill requiring the Supreme Court to write out opinions when re-quested. That bill must certainly have been oduced by a member of the Legislature from the backwoods who has not yet learned that the present Supreme Court does as it pleases. It not only wears gowns, but it makes a constitution for the people, legislates and does about everything else that could be expected to be done by the Czar of all the Russias, and there is no one to molest it or make it afraid either. WOULD NOT RECEIPT.

A Point of Procedure Which the House Wil Have to Settle.

[FROM A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.] HARRISBURG, January 18 .- On authority of Chief Clerk Morrison, Chairman Keyser, of the Committee on City Passenger Railways, was given Representative Lafferty's street railway bill and this afternoon carried it with him to Philadelphia, Resident Clerk Voorhees, finding it missing when the bills were returned to him, refused to receipt for them. Mr. Voorhees holds that Chairman Keyser should not have been given the bill and the House will have to decide the point.

[FROM A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.] HARRISBURG, January 18 .- The municipai bill was made special order for Tuesday and Wednesday in the House to-day and special reading for third reading and final passage Tuesday, January 29. Then the Senate is expected to rush it. The nearness

Continued on Sixth Page.

The Point Raised by The Dispatch Corre-SWEEPING STREET RAILWAY BILL